

Welcome to Glengoulandie Shepherd's Hut

We hope you enjoy your holiday. This is just a wee bit of information to help with your stay.

Welcome Sheet

Please see your Welcome Sheet for general guidance about the site, including a site plan and the emergency procedures.

Steps

Please be careful on the steps. Please use the handrail at all times.

Water

The water tap will give you both warm and cold water and is operated by turning the dial on the front. Just turn it on a little for cold water. The more you turn it on, the warmer it will get. There is also a tap on the pedestal outside, which you might find useful if you are cooking outdoors.

Sofa Bed

The sofa bed is simple to operate and you do not need to reach your hand in to release any switches or catches:

1. Pull the sofa bed out from the wall slightly.
2. Stand in front of the sofa in the middle and lift the seat section upwards towards the back-rest until the back lies flat.
3. Continue to lift the seat section and you will hear it click/release.
4. Now lower the seat section back down so the bed is totally flat.
5. To return it to a sofa bed, simply reverse this procedure.

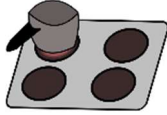

Power

The hut is supplied with a standard UK caravan power supply (16A). To avoid the inconvenience of the power tripping-out, please be mindful of how many electrical items you have on at any one time.

BBQs

Please do not use BBQs on the decking or the outdoor furniture. You can use the grass area but please ensure any BBQs are supported well off the ground. There is a block provided to help you in doing this.

Hot Plate

Do not turn the hob on without a pan in place. Place your pan on a hot plate and turn the corresponding knob to your desired heat setting. Please remember to turn the hob off after use.

Radio

The hut radio will only pick up FM channels (sorry – the trees and hills block the digital signal!). It's best to use manual tuning as follows: R1 99.5, R2 89.9, R3 92.1, R4 95.8, RScotland 94.3, Classic FM 101.7. You may be lucky and find more!

Pets

Sorry, we do not allow pets of any kind in the hut.

Heater

The heater is turned on by the switch on the wall to the left of it. It is an infrared panel heater and works by heating objects and people - not the air. As such, it will take a few minutes for you to feel its affect. Please switch it off after use.

Cleaning

The dustpan & brush and vacuum are provided for your use. On the day of your departure, please tidy-up, clean round and empty the bin. There are more attachments for the vacuum in the small bag in the unit by the door if you need them.

Anything need fixing

If there is anything not working properly, or needs attention, please let us know. We can sort this after you have left if you would prefer.

Fire Extinguisher & Blanket

These could save your life (and the hut) so please use them if you need to. Please let us know if you have discharged the extinguisher or used the blanket so we can get replacements before anyone else needs them.

On your day of departure, please come and say “bye” and hand back your keys at Reception

We hope you have fun and enjoy the scenery!
If you have any questions or need any further help (however minor it may seem), please do not hesitate to get in touch with us.
